

Who are you learning to drive with?

- Is your driving instructor licensed?
- Does your instructor display their license?
- Has your instructor had an enhanced CRB check?
- Is your instructor regularly checked by the DSA?

WARNING: Illegal driving instructors could be working in your area

It's easy to get the right kit and look genuine. Illegal instructors may not have the appropriate insurance, or be teaching you up to date methods of driving. They could even have a history of fraud or committed offences of a sexual nature.

The DSA (Driving Standards Agency) require all instructors to have an enhanced CRB check.

Instructors operating without this check could be illegal and may have been refused certification. Illegal instructors survive because people don't ask enough questions and don't really know how to spot one - could you?

Be aware, be safe. Driving is a skill for life.
